

The Keepers Story

Keepers Urban Honey is harvested from the hives of our family of 40,000 bees which are housed high up on our rooftop.

They harvest this nectar by collecting pollen from plants and gardens in this, the Tower Hill area. The beautiful Trinity Square and Gardens were designed as the site for the neighbouring Trinity House by Samuel Wyatt in 1797. Today they are a wonderful source of pollen for our bees, who have to work harder than their country cousins to find the perfect blend of flavour and scent to create our very own Keepers Urban Honey.

Our in-house beekeeper cares for all our bees, and our honey is only ever served here from our own kitchen specifically for your enjoyment. Should you wish to purchase a jar of our Keepers Urban Honey to savour at home, please ask your server.
