Beverage Menu

Welcome to our cocktail haven, a tribute to the French heritage that graces our surroundings.

Have you observed the abundance of French place names during your exploration of the Margaret River Region?

Despite Dutch explorers providing rudimentary outlines of Western Australia's southwestern coast, it was the French who meticulously surveyed and charted the area, commencing with two expeditions in 1772.

As Pullman Bunker Bay Resort is connected with Accor, headquartered in Paris, the French connections in Australia intrigued our curiosity.

Indulge in classics with a contemporary twist, from the iconic French Martini to the effervescent charm of an Old Fashioned.

Join us in celebrating the fusion of tradition and innovation, where every sip is an invitation to savor the essence of French sophistication.

Should you wish to have a tippie that is alcohol free, we have curated three drinks to meet the non-drinkers palate

Cheers to a journey through flavors that transcends boundaries, delivering an unforgettable experience.

CAPE GOSSELIN 23

Known as Cape Leeuwin in French, it marks the southernmost point of the Margaret River region and the Naturaliste-Leeuwin Ridge. Join a guided tour of Cape Leeuwin Lighthouse to witness the meeting of two oceans and explore its wild, perilous surroundings filled with submerged rocks and shipwrecks.

GEOGRAPHE BAY 23

When seated in Other Side of The Moon, our view extends over Geographe Bay, named after Captain Nicholas Baudin's lead ship in 1800. The bay, sheltered from westerlies, is ideal for sailing, swimming, snorkeling, fishing, and whale watching.

SAINT ALOUARN ISLAND 24

Situated three miles from Cape Leeuwin, or Cape Gosselin, this deserted island commemorates Louis Saint Alouarn, the first surveyor of Western Australia in 1772. The Baudin expedition was dispatched to validate his findings.

POINT PICQUET 22

Captain Baudin's dismissal of Sub-lieutenant Antoine Picquet led to the naming of the whale watching site, Point Picquet, in protest. Easily accessible on Eagle Bay-Meelup Road, just a 10-minute drive from Pullman Bunker Bay, don't miss the opportunity to spot migrating whales in spring or enjoy summer swims at the nearby beaches.

CAPE NATURALISTE 23

Named after the second ship in Baudin's 1800 expedition, Cape Naturaliste invites exploration. Ascend Cape Naturaliste Lighthouse, then stroll the accessible trail to marvel at Sugarloaf Rock, an impressive boulder rising from the ocean.

BAUDIN'S BLACK COCKATOO 24

Although Captain Nicholas Baudin is absent from Australian maps, Baudin's black cockatoo (Zanda Baudinii), named in his honor in 1832, frequently graces the resort and coastal skies. Spot this distinctive long-billed white-tailed species feasting on shrubs and gumnuts from marri trees.
